

We first had contact from a young German missionary, named Kutz Hetzinger, in late 2009. He is from a poor background and was unable to purchase the materials he needed. He was starting a series of crusades on the island of Zanzibar, off the coast of Tanzania, and asked if it were possible for us to supply him, and his team, with Swahili tracts. We were able to do so over a period of about six weeks through the efforts of Phillip Mahali in Mbeya.

Kutz returned home to Germany a very sick young man, suffering from malaria, plus some other complications. A few months ago his team went to Uganda, East Africa, to commence a series of crusades there. Sadly he was unable to travel with them as he was still very weak. He asked us to supply tracts again, but, so far, because of the lack of funds we have been unable to do so. We wait on our God.
